minds; there are many who indorse the views of the Governor on practically every question; there are some who differ with him on a majority of them; there are others who agree and disagree in about equal proportion—

All concede him to be honest, sincere and possessed with the impulse to do everything in his power to advance the material prosperity of Florida and the happiness and liberty of its people.

There are none who disagree about his studious attention to and careful deliberation of public questions.

He has grown wonderfully during the comparative short time he has occupied this high and responsible position.

He has convinced all of his untiring energy, and unremitting pursuit of knowledge for the good of the people.

His views are worth consideration.

His message should be read, and if good suggestions are found therein a majority should agree and legislation should be enacted to carry them out.

All who have not taken time to read this public document carefully, should do so at once.

GOES BEFORE ALL QUESTIONS.

It was told of some old Roman who saw the necessity of checking the growing power of Carthage as a protection to the Roman State, that he instructed his servant each morning when he brought him his breakfast food, to say:

"Master, remember the Carthaginians."

The fact that the Carthaginians were remembered to their dismemberment as a nation and their disappearance as a people, HAS NO IMPORTANCE to this late day.

It is important, however, that we should even now be reminded of an obligation, so that we will be in no danger of forgetting it.

There are no Carthaginians hammering at our gates, but there is a duty imposed upon the Legislature of the State of Florida that is of far greater importance than the annihilation of one heathen people, or the protection of another, prompted by the memory of the old Roman's story.

I say to the Legislature of Florida now assembled to pass laws for the prosperity and happiness of the people—took a text; next he left it, and thirdly, he never returned to it. Mr. MacWilliams had said there was nothing to find out, and no lawyer could find out anything but the truth, but that it was necessary for anyone to prepare himself for months in order to find out what there was to be discovered.

"We all know what lawyers are," said Mr. Knight. "They don't know how to work except on one side of a case. If we are going to have lawyers, let's have two—one for each side."

The vote on the motion to reconsider was taken, as follows:

In favor of reconsideration:

The Speaker, Messrs. Abernethy, Carter, Clarke, Duke, Dorman, Dudley, DuPont, Geiger, Griggs, Hartfield, Hooker, Knight of Columbia, Knowles, MacWilliams, Malone, Melton, Milliner, Morrison, Olmstead, Reese, Rowe, Russell, Smith, Taylor, Wartmann, Watson, Wells, Willis of Gadsden—29.

Against:

Messrs. Avant, Calkins, Cobb, Crawford, Decker, Durance, Farris, Faulkner, Harvell, Johnson, Jones, Kilgore, Kirkland, Knight of Columbia, Lassiter, Long, McCutcheon, McKenzie, McClellan, Mathews, Neel, Parkinson, Paul, Peaden, Peeples, Pettigrew, Richbourg, Roddenberry, Snell, Willis of Levy, Williams, Wilson of Hernando, Wilson of Lee—33.

Tough Crowd.

A cub reporter was recently detailed by his office to "cover" an assignment where he was thrown in contact with a number of police reporters. He returned to the office and was solicitously asked by his associates how he liked the work. "Oh, very nicely," remarked the young man, "but those reporters are the roughest literary gentlemen I ever met."—Boston Herald.

WILL INTRODUCE AUTOMOBILES.

Automobiles in Tallahassee promise to be the thing in the near future—that is, the general and extensive use of these machines adopted for business as well as pleasure.

Mr. Harold P. Bogart is manager for the Tallahassee Automobile Company, which will handle the Ford Runabout machine. Every afternoon, weather favorable, a demonstration will be made from the garage and the public is invited. All who care to investigate, wish information or desire a trip with the demonstrator will be accommodated if they will call.
